

Anti-Drug & Alcohol Misuse Prevention Program Management

Protect Your Operation. Prevent Costly Compliance Mistakes.

Managing an FAA/DOT Anti-Drug & Alcohol Misuse Prevention Program is complex, detail-heavy, and unforgiving. One overlooked step can expose an operator to tens of thousands of dollars in fines. AirTera<sup>SM</sup> has supported the aviation community as a Third-Party Administrator (TPA) for over 25 years, giving operators the expertise, tools, and guidance needed to stay compliant.

Challenges Operators Face and How AirTera<sup>SM</sup> Solves Them

Managing an FAA/DOT Anti-Drug & Alcohol Misuse Prevention Program is filled with operational and regulatory challenges, including:

1. Complex DOT/FAA regulations that are easy to misinterpret
2. Time-consuming manual tracking and paper-based recordkeeping
3. Scattered documents, binders, and lack of real-time visibility
4. Inaccurate or incomplete guidance from non-aviation TPAs
5. Higher overhead and added staff burden when managing programs in-house
6. Difficulty finding and coordinating with MROs and collection sites
7. Stressful, disorganized audits due to limited audit readiness

Aviation-specific regulatory focus under FAA (14 CFR Part 120) and DOT (49 CFR Part 40)
